In the recent election for court house bonds Cassville and Flat Creek township voted 607 votes while Monett and Monett township cast only 825 votes, although Monett township has nearly four times more population than Cassville has. Why is this great difference in the vote of the two places? The reason is clear: Cassville counted many as voting there who lived hundreds and even thousands of miles away on the day of the election and some of them had not lived in Missouri for eight or ten years and some of them never lived at all. Therefore it is perfectly plain. Cassville could have counted 825 votes just as readily if she had thought it necessary. See. 10 tf.

NATIONAL MAGAZINE FOR JULY

A bright eyed, gaily-toqued Bathing Girl adorns the cover of the NATIONAL MAGAZINE for July, and suggests the seasonable summer stories inside. The array of fiction is particularly tempting, and the half dozen wholesome short stories of this issue have just the spirit and sentiment that appeal to the summer reader. The continued chapters on "Henry Holman's Pilgrimage," M. R. Umberlin's pleasant serial, are rich in interest and reminiscence.

In "Affairs at Washington" Joe Mitchell Chapple reviews the month's events at the national capital in the breezy, colloquial manner which shows his intimate, personal contact with the men who are on the firing line. There is a word on the celebration of Independence Day among the nation's solons; a glimpse of the prominent candidates in the coming elections, both congressional and presidential; a dash of the wit and humor that permeates the cloak rooms at the Capitol, and withal a general resume of political affairs. An able article on the Titanic disaster, by Captain Arthur N. Mc Gray, a well-known authority on nautical matters, presents the story of the awful marine tragedy from a technical standpoint, though written in a fresh untechnical style, unhampered by useless statistics.

Everybody can make money, but the great secret comes in getting onto the way of spending it. When you let your money go get something for it. Ask yourself the question—"Don't Bob Callaway give me my moneys worth every time?"

That dollar you pay for Electric Lights. Why not pay it for City Lights.

VERY LITTLE WORK PERFORMED ON PLATFORM

A Few Planks Are Being Presented, but Not Much Discussion of Them

Baltimore, June 25.—Senator Dubois, national manager of the Clark campaign, said tonight that no work has yet been done on the platform by the speaker's supporters so far as he was aware.

"Some of our eastern friends," he volunteered, "have come to us since our victory in the convention today and told us to go ahead and fix the platform to suit ourselves. But we shall consult carefully every shade of progressive opinion before deciding definitely upon any important planks."

William J. Bryan said tonight that he had not drafted even the outline of any plank he may submit to the platform committee, of which he is a member and may be chairman.

As a matter of fact very little work thus far has been done toward putting the platform into shape. That it will ring out clearly as a progressive declaration there is no doubt in any quarter.

When you buy an automobile don't pay six or eight thousand dollars for it. Pay less for it and spend half the amount for furniture from Bob Callaway to put in your home.
